

SHAKES THE CHURCH TO THE FOUNDATION

CRISIS AMONG REFORMED EPISCOPALIANS.

In Consequence of the Decision of the General Council on the Vestment Question Bishop Cheney and Other Clergymen Resign Their Offices and Quit

New York, June 12.—At Friday's session of the general council of the Reformed Episcopal Church the substitute motion of Bishop Campbell, permitting any presbyter to use either black or white surplice, and, in the case of a bishop, a rochet, in place of Dr. Asher's motion, which allows only those now using the white surplice to continue to do so, was taken up, and a lengthy discussion ensued.

After a long debate the council proceeded to vote on the original motion to make the black gown the vestment to be used on all occasions except by those who are now using the surplice. It was voted on "by orders," and the result was a victory for the black gown by 26 to 15 among the clergy and 31 to 12 among the laymen. The joint vote was 57 to 27.

Bishop Cheney of Chicago made a strong protest against this action, and announced his resignation "as a member of the special church-extension trust, as trustee of the theological seminary, as member of the committee on doctrine and worship, and any other place which I may hold by the authority of the general council."

C. M. Morton of Philadelphia announced that Miss Harriet S. Benson had delegated him to state that on account of the action of the council in regard to the vestments she would withdraw until further notice the income from her contribution to the special church extension trust and the special synod trust. These trusts provide an income to the church of $15,000 a year.

This was followed quickly by the resignations of a number of prominent clergymen and laymen from important committees. Finally Bishop Fallows called for an immediate meeting of the general committee of the church and an adjournment of the session.

Bishop Fallows was asked what the prospects of the church were under the crisis. He was inclined to take a hopeful view. The trouble was serious, he said, but he did not apprehend the breaking up of the church. Bishop Campbell, the leader of the surplice party, said that the crisis was serious, but he did not take a gloomy view of things.

ITS FUNDS LOW.

Lutheran Home Mission Board Reports a $10,000 Deficit.

Mansfield, Ohio, June 12.—The Lutheran synod got down to business Friday and as soon as the opening services of the morning session were over began the raising of $10,000 to cover a deficit that has been troubling the board of home missions for the last year. It took almost the entire morning session and part of the afternoon session, but the task was finally accomplished.

General Secretary Rev. Dr. A. Stewart Hartman, Baltimore, Md., delivered the fourteenth biennial report of the board of home missions. The total contributions for all purposes were $327,668. The total number of missions was 160, and of missionaries 193. The net gain in members was 4,162. Twelve mission churches no longer asked aid from the board, having assumed their own support. The board asked for $45,600 for each of the two years beginning May 1, 1898. The financial report showed a deficiency of $10,000 in the treasury of the board.

D. K. Ramey of Altoona, Pa., the eldest layman in the synod, started a movement to remove the deficiency by a subscription of $500. The synod increased this to $4,436 by personal subscriptions. The amount necessary to cover the deficit was soon raised.

A resolution in the form of an earnest call upon the Lutheran churches, Sunday schools, and various ecclesiastical societies to make a strong effort to raise the amounts apportioned to them in raising debts was adopted.

Rev. Charles S. Albert of Philadelphia, who has been president of the board of home missions for fourteen years, tendered his resignation because of other duties taking all his time. The resignation was accepted, and Rev. E. Bockelman of Burlington, Iowa, was appointed to the vacancy.

MISSION WORK DISCUSSED.

Recommendation Made to National Christian Endeavor Convention.

Adrian, Mich., June 12.—At the national Christian Endeavor convention Friday the address on home missions was made by Rev. Dr. Heiner, who took the place of Rev. Mr. Fisher of New Comerstown, Ohio, and was followed by open parliament discussion. The best methods and plans to advance mission work were fully discussed, and a recommendation that there be appointed a superintendent of missionary work by the convention was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Rev. Q. Morrow of Maryland spoke on "Christian Citizenship," and in one of the most eloquent efforts ever heard here arraigned the liquor traffic in strong language, and demanded that Christian citizens vote for its extermination. The address was enthusiastically approved.

HE UPHOLDS THE WORKERS

Important "Blacklist" Case Decided by Illinois.

Mount Vernon, Ill., June 12.—An opinion in a case of vital importance to railroads and other corporations and employees generally has been filed by the appellate court, the opinion being by Judge Sample. The case is that of the Cleveand, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company, appellant, against Charles Jenkins, appellee; appeal from the circuit court of Wabash county.

The suit was brought by a former freight conductor of the road to recover $2,000 on a declaration charging that, although the plaintiff, as a conductor, had been a faithful employee of the railroad company for ten years, he was discharged without cause, and that the customary letter or clearance card, showing time of service and general capacity, was refused, whereby he failed to secure employment, though he applied to many roads. It is alleged that the defendant and other railroads have a rule, or custom, which is charged to be conspiracy, not to employ a discharged employee of a road without such letter or clearance card.

The plaintiff says that he had railroaded for twenty-four years, and was 50 years of age, but, as a result of facts above set forth, was obliged to quit railroading.

The court affirms a verdict for $875 awarded to Jenkins for full pay during the interval between the time of his dismissal and of his exoneration from certain false charges. The court says that, while it is true that the master is under no legal obligations to give a testimonial of character to his servant, yet, in the absence of an agreement or well recognized usage under which an implied agreement answers, the court finds the custom clearly enough proved in the matter of railroads and their employees as to justify the verdict of the jury.

By the refusal of the defendant to give a clearance card in this case the court says that the plaintiff was unlawfully deprived, so far as appears, for life, of the right and opportunity to get work in the line for which he had by years of faithful service prepared himself, and the court, commenting on this point, uses most forcible language in disapproval.

The decision in this case is one of the most important ever handed down by the appellate court, and this is the first time the points involved herein have been passed upon by this court.

DAILY BASE BALL REPORT

Results of Yesterday's Games Played in the Various Leagues.

The odd game of the series went to Philadelphia yesterday. Griffith was easy and the Colts played a miserable fielding game. Brooklyn, which has been playing fast ball recently, will be Chicago's opponent today. Victorious Boston gave Baltimore a chill by winning two games from Louisville, which seems to have settled into its normal second-division pace. The champions kept ahead, however, by another brilliant victory from Cleveland. Cincinnati and New York played a sharp game, Breitenstein opposing Russ. The Reds won, 2 to 1. Pittsburgh fell before Brooklyn again, and, with Cleveland, slipped down below Philadelphia. Washington trounced St. Louis again. Scores:

THE TRADE REVIEW BY DUN & COMPANY

BUSINESS CONTINUES TO SHOW IMPROVEMENT.

Dun & Co's Report Shows a Larger Volume of Trade Than in 1896—Slight Increase of Wheat Estimated—Large Crop in Failures in Both the United States and Canada

New York, June 12.—R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade says:

"The gain in business continues, not without fluctuation, and at the best moderate, yet distinct. It is still in quantities rather than prices, although in some branches an advance in prices appears, but, on the whole, the number of hands employed, the volume of new orders and the amount of work done are slowly increasing. The prospect of good crops of wheat and cotton helps the growing demand from dealers. In the money and exchange market the large buying of American securities has an influence.

"Wheat looks well, and the best trade authority now estimates the yield at 515,000,000 bushels. The price recovered 1 1/2 cents after last week's fall of over 4 cents. The annual report of cotton acreage by the Financial Chronicle shows an increase of 5.83 per cent in all the states, and the crop is estimated at nearly 9,100,000 bales. The market is 1-16 weaker.

"Neither cotton nor woolen mills can expect other than a waiting business with a change of tariff impending, but the demand for bleached goods is steady, though moderate. Sales of foreign wool at the three chief markets is 8,368,000 pounds. Iron furnaces in blast June 1 reported a weekly output of 168,350 tons, against 170,528 May 1. The main fact is that the production of pig has for some months been much in excess of the demand in the manufacture of finished products. Failure to form the rod trust caused wire nails to yield 5 cents. The general demand for plates and sheets was better, and for bars much larger east and at Chicago.

"Failures for the week have been 262 in the United States, against 246 last year, and 30 in Canada, against 27 last year."

A HUSBAND'S TERRIBLE DEED

John E. Lewis of Columbus, Ohio, Cuts His Wife's Throat With a Razor.

Columbus, Ohio, June 12.—John E. Lewis, a plasterer, in a fit of jealousy, Friday drew a razor from his pocket and cut his wife's throat. Lewis and his wife had separated owing to the husband's intemperate habits, and she had gone into domestic service at the home of L. N. Connard, 383 Neil avenue. Lewis had been seen about the place for several days, and on Friday when his wife went out to sweep the walk he attacked her, and a terrible struggle ensued. She broke away and ran into the house, where he caught her, and, throwing her down, drew the razor across her throat. He was pursued several squares by the neighbors, and at last jumped into the river, which he swam, but was caught by persons on the other side. Lewis' wife is at a hospital in a dying condition.

Wants the Case Dismissed.

Chicago, June 12.—Attorney Forrest asked Judge Smith yesterday afternoon to take the case of Charles Warren Spalding out of the hands of the jury, by instructing the body to bring in a verdict of not guilty upon the charge of embezzlement of University of Illinois bonds. Mr. Forrest argued all the afternoon in defense of his motion, the matter finally going over until Monday morning.

Sickles Arrives in Spain.

London, June 12.—Stanton Sickles, secretary of the United States minister at Madrid, arrived in this city Thursday evening. In the course of an interview he is quoted as saying there is no cause for anxiety regarding the relations between the United States and Spain. President McKinley has not settled upon a definite policy toward Cuba, according to Mr. Sickles.

Will Report Against Tillman.

Washington, June 12.—The members of the committee on contingent expenses of the senate have agreed to report adversely the Tillman resolution for an investigation of the alleged speculations in sugar. The report, it is understood, will go fully into the merits of the question, showing such investigations as that proposed to be generally barren of results.

Reform School Charges Fall.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12.—The board of state charities, after having made an investigation of the charge of cruel treatment preferred against the management of the reform school for boys at Plainfield, informed the governor that the character of the evidence does not justify the censuring of the management.

TO BRING HAWAII INTO THE CIRCLE

ANNEXATION TREATY IS BEING PREPARED.

Will be Submitted to the Senate at an Early Date—First Test Vote on Sugar Schedule Taken—Increase in Postal Receipts—Was Bound For Newport News.

Washington, June 12.—The state department is preparing a treaty for the annexation of Hawaii. The treaty may be submitted to the senate for ratification at the present session, and if not will be ready for the regular session next December.

The representatives of Hawaii have been energetically at work since the inauguration of the present administration to conclude a treaty of annexation and have found President McKinley disposed to consider the proposition. Negotiations are said to have reached a stage where Hawaii is willing to cede all her ports and crown lands to the United States in exchange for the privilege of becoming a territory under the protection of this government.

According to the arrangement at present agreed upon the United States will assume the debt of Hawaii to the limit of $4,000,000 and will extend the full rights of citizenship to all the inhabitants of Hawaii except Asiatics.

TEST VOTE ON SUGAR.

The Republican Caucus Amendment Adopted by a Narrow Majority.

Washington, June 12.—The first test vote on the sugar schedule was taken in the senate Friday, resulting in the adoption of the Republican caucus amendment changing the house rate of 1.95 cents per pound by the close vote of years 32, nays 30. The affirmative vote was made up of twenty-nine Republicans, one Democrat, McEney (La.); one silver Republican, Jones (Nev.), and one Populist, Stewart (Nev.). The negative vote was made up of twenty-five Democrats, three Populists and two silver Republicans. It was the closest vote thus far taken on an issue of importance, and was accepted as showing that any amendment having the sanction of the caucus was assured of adoption.

The main speech of the day came from Mr. Allison, in charge of the bill, and was in the nature of an answer to the charges made against the sugar schedule as a whole, and a defense of it. Mr. Gorman (Md.) spoke against the schedule and the entire bill, pointing out that its effect was to burden the people without opening up to us new foreign markets. Mr. White reviewed the records of Republican senators on the sugar schedule during the debate on the Wilson bills, arraigning them for inconsistency. Mr. Caffery (La.) and Mr. Stewart (Nev.) also spoke, the former against and the latter for the pending schedule, after which the vote was taken.

Accuses Judges of Irregularity.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12.—The auditor of state has called the attention of the attorney general to the fact that the pay of special judges in the state in the last six months amounts to $15,000, and has asked advice regarding a number of these cases. It is charged that some of the special judges have charged for three days when they served but one, especially when going to another circuit to try a case, although they went and returned the same day. Some of the judges who are on regular salaries charge a per diem when called to other circuits, and the auditor wants the practice stopped.

Strike Seems Probable.

Elwood, Ind., June 12.—The tin plate factories of the country will, it is said, close down for a week July 1, pending the settlement of the wage scale, and will close the factories and make the necessary repairs. The indications are that the settlement of the wage scale may not be reached at once, because the differences that exist between the workmen, who ask an increase of 15 per cent, and the companies, who refuse to grant any increase, render it a matter of conjecture when the plants will resume. A long strike seems probable in the tin plate industry of the whole country.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 12.—Judge Penrose Friday filed an adjudication in an estate dispute, in which he takes occasion to decide that the direct inheritance tax is unconstitutional. Judge Hanna rendered a similar decision last week. The law was recently enacted by the state legislature.

JAMES FRENCH IS HANGED

Rockford Wife Murderer Fainted on the Scaffold.

Rockford, Ill., June 12.—James French, the wife murderer, paid the death penalty on the scaffold here on Friday, the drop falling at 11:22 o'clock, and thirteen minutes later he was pronounced dead, his neck having been broken. French displayed wonderful nerve all the morning and walked on the scaffold with a firm step. He said he had nothing to say, resigning himself to his spiritual advisers. As the white cap was placed over his head he fainted and fell back into the arms of the deputies, who straightened him up and the trap was sprung. Two hundred people witnessed the execution from within the high stockade. Thousands stood around outside, including many women, who could not see or hear anything.

French killed his wife July 19, 1896.

PRESIDENT AT NASHVILLE

Escorted from the Depot by Ex-Confederate Soldiers.

Nashville, Tenn., June 12.—The train bearing President McKinley and party arrived at 8 Friday. The party was escorted by a squad of mounted ex-confederate soldiers in uniform to the Maxwell house, where breakfast was served.

At 10:30 o'clock President McKinley and party, the governors of Tennessee and Ohio and their staffs, the executive committees of the exposition, Mayor McCarthy of Nashville and Mayor Caldwell of Cincinnati, and Nashville and Cincinnati police, together with Tennessee military companies and a guard of honor of ex-confederate veterans, proceeded to the exposition. A salute of forty-five guns was fired during the parade.

An immense crowd faced the president at the exposition grounds when he rose to speak.

THE BRITISH FORCES SLAIN

Officers and Men Cut Down in a Desperate Battle in India.

London, June 12.—There are fears that England will have another Indian war on its hands. The tribesmen in the Tochi Valley are in revolt, and British blood has already been shed.

An attack was made on a political officer of the Indian government, who was visiting at Shirani, and his escort are said to have been cut to pieces. A captain and a lieutenant were killed and two other officers wounded. The native Sikh troops composing the escort fought bravely and desperately, but were no match for the overwhelming number of tribesmen with whom they had to contend.

The affair is pregnant with grave results owing to the fierce popular feeling created throughout Hindustan owing to the British treatment of natives to prevent a spread of the bubonic plague.

Kaiser Stands Out for the Sultan.

Paris, June 12.—A dispatch to the Soleil from St. Petersburg says that Germany is trying to secure the retention of the Turkish garrisons in Crete, the retrocession of Thessaly to Turkey, and the abolition of the special privileges accorded to Greek subjects in the Ottoman empire. Russia, according to the correspondent of the Soleil, refuses to concede these points. He adds: "And so Germany will have to yield."

Senators to Caucus Today.

Washington, June 12.—It has been definitely decided to hold a Republican caucus today to settle tariff differences. He shot deliberately and without explanation. Hyland is dying.

THE ONTARIO LODGE QUILTS THE ORDER

CANADIAN UNITED WORKMEN WITHDRAWN.

Severs All Connection With the Supreme Organization the Delegates Leaving When the Vote Refusing Their Request Was Announced—Other Work Done at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 12.—The Ontario grand lodge has severed connection with the supreme lodge of the A. O. U. W. The special committee appointed to consider the case reported to the supreme lodge against granting the request of the Ontario members to be relieved from financial obligations while retaining fraternal relations. The report of the committee was sustained by a decisive vote. When the vote was announced Ontario's representatives arose and took leave of the supreme lodge, severing their connection with that body.

The withdrawal of the Ontario lodge takes out of the A. O. U. W. between 25,000 and 30,000 members out of a total membership in the order of 275,000. The three other jurisdictions of Canada—Quebec, Manitoba and British Columbia—remain loyal to the supreme lodge.

The representatives from Iowa presented a memorial to the supreme lodge asking for a change in the constitution so that switchmen, yardmen, and miners cannot become members of the order.

An amendment which was sent to the committee on laws was presented by the representatives from Oregon. It provides that any member of the order who has been a member in good standing for not less than ten years, and through sickness or from other causes has become unable to pay his assessments, may, upon application, receive such assistance from his lodge as may be necessary, and in turn he may have the right to pledge the lodge any portion of his beneficiary certificate in payment of the loan.

The finance committee recommended that the per capita tax remain 12 cents for the ensuing year.

Upholds Three-Cent Fares.

Indianapolis, June 12.—The Supreme court of Indiana Friday decided that the 3-cent street car fare law is constitutional. It relates to Indianapolis only. In the federal court recently the same law, passed by the last legislature, was declared unconstitutional and injunctions were granted by Judge Shawler against its enforcement. The state will insist on 3-cent fares unless the street car company secures an injunction pending an appeal to the federal Supreme court.

It is understood that the street railway company will apply to the Federal court at once for further proceedings in the case and so amend its complaint that a federal question will be raised.

Broker Chapman Is Released.

Washington, June 12.—Broker Elverton R. Chapman spent the final night of his term in the district jail last day. His sentence expired at midnight, but, according to custom, he was "allowed to remain" until the morning. He might, had he so desired, have left in time to breakfast at the Arlington, but instead he breakfasted as usual in the jail, and after finishing his meal spent an hour or more looking over his mail while waiting for his friends.

Iowa Pharmacists Adjourn.

WORK THE REUBENS WITH "AGENT" ADS

FRAUDS BACK OF "$75 SALARY" OFFERS.

One Man Who Said He Preferred Salary to Commission Had to Sign an Agreement to Sell 10,000 Tar Roof Cigars—The Man Who Wants Names.

Janesville has been visited by an unusual number of "agents wanted" people during the last month. The local gudgeon crop must be large.

The game worked by each one of these district managers is about the same. The advertisements call for agents, no experience necessary, salary $75 a month. They are cruel things to put out during such hard times, for they are frauds of the worst kind.

The case of a Chicago cigar house that advertises for agents in this part of the country may be taken as a type. From the fact that the firm advertises week in and week out year after year, it must be difficult to get men of experience who will work for $75 a month.

All Want to Carry Grips.

It must not be assumed that the ad has not been answered, however. The chance to get a job as traveling salesman is one few country boys would overlook.

No one in a small town or village is more locked up to than the perambulating traveling man, whose natty clothing and nobby reekies excite the envy of the village youth. Then the drummer has such a bold, familiar way with pretty girls and the old. He is so blase, so jolly and wise. If a vote for choice of occupations was taken today among the village boys of America, nine-tenths of them would want to carry sample cases, the other tenth, cast in sterner mold, wishing for a chance to become Pinkerton detectives.

Answers to the cigar ad are therefore numerous. In reply to the verdant one's letter comes a confidential reply, worded in encouraging language, telling how easy it is to sell cigars to merchants. "All you have to do is to show the goods, they sell themselves."

Mr. Verdant may have the agency for Kilbosh county and will be put on the salary list as soon as he is qualified. He is requested to write and say whether he would have a salary of $75 a month and expenses or work for fifty per cent commission. He is also told to remit $14 to be held as security for the fine lot of samples to be sent him.

Plenty of Nibbles.

Now if Verdant stops right here he will only be out two cents but if he proceeds he will lose $14. If he remits he gets a few horrible cigars that will neither smoke nor sell. If he has preferred to work on a salary instead of commission he is sent a contract to sign, wherein he agrees, in consideration of the salary to sell for cash at least 100,000 cigars a month. He cannot sell any of the cigars for they were never made to sell, they were especially built to work this help want racket.

The Chicago firm that buccoes some 20,000 each month of these would be drummers would be very much surprised indeed if one of its victims should actually send in an order for ten thousand stogies.

The cigar scheme is only one of hundreds. The man who wants names reaps a goodly harvest.

"I wrote to one of those 'name' men," said a skeptical young man. "He seemed perfectly square. He offered $5 a hundred for names and addresses of one's neighbors. I applied and got a letter telling me I had been appointed agent for the county. He said he liked my penmanship all right, and I felt hopeful and began to look forward to earning a watch and chain that winter. But there was a string to the game. I must first send $2 for a special book in which to transcribe the names. I coughed up the two beans and got a lap pad worth eight cents. Then I was at last ready to go to work but my jaw dropped when, on looking over the instructions in the book, I saw that the neighbors whose names and addresses were wanted and for which $5 a hundred were paid, were only those whom boilers had blown up or who had fallen out of balloons within the past year. My book is blank yet, and unless things thicken quickly I will be a loser."

CASE HAS TWO SIDES

Bitter Feeling at Monticello Over the Recent Inquest.

The verdict of the coroner's jury in the suicide case at Monticello has aroused a bitter feeling in that quiet village. The physician who was censured by the verdict is warmly supported by a large number of citizens who do not hesitate to say that the coroner's inquest and subsequent verdict was a case of malicious persecution made to wear the semblance of judicial authority by a peculiar combination of circumstances. The following speaks for itself.

MONTICELLO, Wis., June 9, 1897. Owing to certain articles which have appeared in several papers published in this county regarding Dr. William Kleiner, we, the undersigned citizens of Monticello and vicinity having employed Dr. William Kleiner with excellent results and perfect satisfaction in every way, deem it our duty to publicly proclaim that we believe him to be a physician and surgeon of no mean ability, and also that we believe him to be a victim of circumstances.

WARNING THE GUARDSMEN

Companies Failing Below 70 Per Cent May Be Disbanded.

Adj. Gen. Boardman has issued a letter stating that the annual inspection of the Wisconsin National guard will be held on or about July 26. The minimum limit allowed in the score card is 70 per cent. Should any company fall below this percentage the company may be disbanded by the governor.

In addition to the markings obtained at the inspection, the credits or demerits received while on the rifle range during the encampments will be counted. First Lieutenant Frank M. Caldwell, Seventh cavalry U. S. A., will conduct the inspection.

No less than three nor more than eight days' notice of their date of inspection will be furnished commanding officers of companies. Troop A and Battery A will be inspected at their home stations. Their inspections will be mounted. The regimental bands will be inspected in camp. Their inspection will include condition of instruments and equipments and drill. All companies at their inspections will be paraded in heavy marching order.

287 names will appear on the new card that is about to be issued by the Wisconsin Telephone company on the first of next month, and the present outlook favors the addition of several other names. Manager Slater says he wishes all contemplating the putting in of 'phones on or before July 1, to send their names to the local office at once.

VERY LITTLE DOING IN LEAF MARKET

BUSINESS IS VERY DULL JUST AT PRESENT.

Local Dealers Refuse the Offer of the Buyers From the Large Cities—The Season is a Month Late—Conditions at Edgerton Much the Same—Plants Plentiful.

It has been many months since there has been so little activity around the tobacco warehouse as during the past week, says The Leaf. Not a single sale of any importance is reported. Several parties from the East have been in our market, but they are unwilling to pay the prices asked by the packers. Local dealers are rather still in their asking prices, as compared with six months ago and this fact deters cigar manufacturers from making extensive purchases. As prices hold steady and slightly on the upgrade in Eastern markets, local packers are in no hurry to sell, unless the purchaser meets their views as regards prices.

The cold weather prevents the '96 from sweating intensely, and fermentation is tardy, being at least a month behind the usual time.

Atmospheric conditions are entirely too cold and dry for the rapid growth of tobacco plants. Transplanting has started in a limited way, but will not become general for a week at least. Plants are healthy and plentiful in most sections.

The Edgerton Market.

Close observation would fail to detect any business going on in the local tobacco markets worthy of mention. The Edgerton Reporter says, and quite so is dense that it is really oppressive. While these are vacation days for the dealer, the tobacco growers are the people who are decidedly busy. The tobacco lands are very generally in readiness for transplanting, but the weather of the week has been so cold and dry as to make setting precarious even when watered out with machines. Frosts have also prevailed almost every night, so that most growers prefer to wait for rains and the advent of warmer weather before putting out their crop. Succeeding the next rain a vast amount will be transplanted, as both the land and the plants are in readiness. A few beds show the searing effects of the late frosts, but in the main there promises to be plenty of plants for all the intended acreage which will be large enough in all conscience.

Raisers Are Well Supplied With "Seed."

While the weather conditions have generally been unfavorable and the season backward tobacco transplanting time finds the tobacco growers of this state with an abundance of plants ready for setting. Most of the land is now prepared in advance for the crop but cold weather and a lack of rain is delaying the transplanting. These circumstances coupled with a large proposed acreage has been a great boon to machine transplanter manufacturers and their sales this year will exceed these for several seasons past. Machine transplanting is becoming almost the universal method of tobacco setting now in this state. Two or more growers join together when their acreage is not sufficient to warrant the purchase of a machine singly or the farmer hires his neighbor and machine to transplant his crop, so unless the season is especially favorable with timely rains, the great bulk of the setting is now machine work. And the planting of the machines too is very generally satisfactory. The cost of getting the crop into the fields has been very largely reduced over the old style of hand planting and affords a more uniform growth. Then, too, The Edgerton Reporter says, there can hardly be any limit to the acreage that can be planted now that the machine has become popular.

THE RIVER IS NOW VERY LOW

Some of the Mills Are Running with Steam Power.

The water in the river at this point has been the lowest, within the past few days, that it has been this year. It has averaged three points below the bolt, and local mill owners were correspondingly glad to see the rain. The large miller at the J. B. Green planing mill has been fired up and the machinery in this mill as well as that in the F. M. Marzluft shoe factory, is operated by steam power. The J. M. Shackleton flour mill is now running nights, in order to use water owned by the cotton company.

Starr, of Atton, was not able to be present on account of the illness of his wife.

A New Coffee.

We have just received an invoice of very fine Java and Mocha coffee called Richelieu. It is put up in two pound air tight cans, and can not be excelled in quality. We think it cannot be equalled by any coffee. It's certainly an article of the highest order and sells at 40 cents per pound. Remember the bicycle offer. Every 50 cent tea or coffee purchase gives you a ticket. Sanborn & Co.

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight but sudden sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and nervous

Dyspepsia

The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is continually feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich, red blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

TRAIN TIME ALTERATIONS CUT A FIGURE.

Tiffany and Shopiere People Complain That They Cannot Reach Janesville and Get Home the Same Night Now, So They Go to Beloit and Clinton—County News.

Tiffany, June 11—It has for some time been impossible for the people of this section to take the train to Janesville and return on the same day. Now they are graciously informed by the railroad potentates that by going to Clinton on the eight o'clock train they can return to Shopiere on notice being given to the conductor on the eight o'clock train from the South of course paying for four miles additional travel. The effect of this course on the part of the road has been to divert a large amount of trade from Janesville to Beloit and Clinton. Our people being able to go to Beloit and return in five hours, a drive of fourteen miles, while it is twenty-five to Janesville and return. What is Janesville's loss is Beloit's gain, and it is no slight item. What with the worms at work in barley, frost on rye, drouth affecting oats and potatoes, failure of seed and corn, and backwardness of that which has grown, farmers feel somewhat discouraged at the outlook. Ray will be light and small fruits a short crop. Lee Witt Starks is on the road in the interest of the McCormick binders. The road commission has completed a very nice job on the road between Shopiere and Tiffany. Tobacco ground is being fitted, and if rain comes considerable will be planted in this section. A Children's day will be observed at the Congregational church in Shopiere next Sunday forenoon by a concert by the children. A light shower fell Thursday night which will help corn somewhat. A communication from "Patron," dated Emerald Grove, says that our statement that the Tiffany Creamery paid ten cents per hundred more than the Emerald Grove Creamery, is untrue. The following statements issued by each creamery will show the facts in the case.

Emerald Grove.
Mr. — 387 lbs 4.2 test.....63 cents
Mr. — 425 lbs 3.8 test.....57 cents
Tiffany Creamery.
Mr. — 4,672 lbs 4.2 test.....75 cents
Mr. — 3,920 lbs 3.8 test.....67 cents
The statements of the Emerald Grove Creamery with names of patrons receiving the same, can be seen at the office of the Tiffany Creamery Company at any time. Also accounts of the Tiffany Creamery Company. It follows that our statement was true, if the Emerald Grove Creamery statements are correct.

It also proves that a large number of our citizens suffering from some kind of kidney of bladder trouble, or torpid liver, disordered stomach and bowels, are receiving unexpected benefit from the use of his remedies. Nothing of greater importance has presented itself to the people of this city in many years.

Dr. Hobbs Pills Cured Him of Swollen Hands and Knees. Gave Him Rest at Night and Relieved Him of His Pains.

March 10, 1897.

I have been a great sufferer from disease of the kidneys during the past two years. My hands and knees were badly swollen. I could not get rest at night, and endured much pain. I have tried a great many remedies for my trouble, but nothing seemed to benefit me until I bought a box of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills at Mr. C. D. Stevens' drug store. The result of their use has greatly pleased me. I can sleep nights, am free from pain, and the swelling has disappeared.

Yours respectfully, J. AYERS, 65 East Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

I have been greatly troubled for nearly eight years with kidney disease and rheumatism. The rheumatism was so intense that my hips would pain me whenever I sat in a chair. I lately read your advertisement of Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills, and got a box of them at C. D. Stevens' drug store. Since taking them I am free from pain and feel like another man than I was before I used them. I owe you my grateful thanks for the cure they have made in my case, and I wish to tell other sufferers from these diseases, how easily and quickly Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills cured me.

MEET AT A FEAST IN CLASS' HONOR

ANNUAL BANQUET OF HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI.

Reception For the Graduates of 1897 Given at Concordia Hall Last Evening and Was One of the Most Successful Gatherings in the History Of the Organization.

The graduates of the Janesville High school gathered around the banquet board at Concordia hall last evening. The occasion was the annual reception in honor of the last class to finish the course at the Janesville temple of learning. The class colors, purple and white, were used in the decorations, and portiers loaned by Archie Reid & Company; cut flowers, rugs, candelabra, banquet lamps and the piano served to make the big room look cozy and homelike. Harold Hall handed programs to the guests as they entered. Mrs. O. H. Brand, president of the alumni association presided, and delivered the address of welcome. The response was made by Charles W. Raymond.

George L. Hatch sang "Answer" and his splendid voice was heard to advantage. The accompaniment by Smith's orchestra was perfect, and an enthusiastic encore was given.

Hon. William G. Wheeler was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Wheeler graduated from the High school in the class of 1891. His address was delivered in his usual happy vein, and was the feature of the evening. Hearty applause showed that it was fully appreciated. Music by Smith's orchestra closed this part of the program, the selection being "Sounds From The Sunny South."

The Banquet.
After the roll call of the classes had been held, the guests sat down to the banquet table. The menu:

Consomme, Water, Cream Potatoes, Cold Ham, Lettuce Sandwiches, Pickles, Jelly, Coffee, Ice Cream, Cake.

Sixteen young ladies of the cooking class acted as waitresses, and Caterer George Shurtliff was in charge of the service. The consomme and creamed potatoes were made by the cooking class, under the direction of their teacher, Miss McLouth.

Mrs. Brand acted as toast master, and the responses were as follows:

The class song was sung by the class of '97, and dancing followed. The reunion was one of the most pleasant in the history of the association and the attendance was larger than usual.

The president, Mrs. O. H. Brand, has labored incessantly to make the reunion a success, and to her efforts more than anything else, the pleasing features were due.

HE TOOK COUNSEL.

By the Indian John Harrington Was Taught the Secret of Health.

Had Suffered from Dyspepsia. To Him was Shown the Lore of the Aborigines. It Made Him a New Man—Strong, Healthy and Thankful.

John Harrington, of Vincennes, Ind., writes to the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., as follows:—"I am very thankful to Kickapoo Indian Sagwa and the Kickapoo Indian Oil for the good they have done me. I have been troubled for a long time with Dyspepsia of the worst kind, and Kickapoo Indian Sagwa has cured me. I can now eat anything, and relish what I eat and I cannot say too much in praise of this wonderful remedy."

Yours truly,
JOHN HARRINGTON.
It has been said that nine tenths of the disease that man is afflicted with result from a disordered condition of the stomach. Surely is nothing more painful or more apt to result seriously than stomach troubles. No matter what the doctor may call it, whether it is dyspepsia, gastritis, or any other high sounding name, the cause is always the same—a broken down condition of this great vital organ of the body.

The greatest trouble with dyspepsia is not simply the pain that the sufferer is obliged to endure, but the fact that the body soon becomes weakened and the system is ready for any disease that the patient may be subject to. Diseases of the blood, kidneys, lungs and heart will be sure to follow quickly in the wake of a disordered stomach. Do not let troubles of this nature go too far unheeded. Do as John Harrington did, and take Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. Remember it is the essence of health. It is made from herbs, barks, gums and roots of the forests and contains no poisonous ingredients of any description.

Kickapoo Indian Remedies are sold by all druggists. They are the same as they were when used by the Indians centuries ago. Look at the Indians as examples of health and strength. Consider their long lives. Think of the food they ate and the great exposures they were obliged to undergo and yet sickness never once entered into their lives. The remarkable longevity that they were endowed with is today a matter of wonder.

If you are ailing and do not know the cause of your trouble, send for our little pamphlet, entitled "Kickapoo Indian Doctor," which will be mailed to you free. Address the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., New Haven, Conn.

THE MARVELOUS X-RAY

Healing Extraordinary!

One Month's Treatment and Medicine FREE.

FACTS ALMOST BEYOND BELIEF.

For the last two weeks our city has been electrified and dumbfounded by the wonderful work of a specialist from New York. Dr. Melville's office has been established in Janesville four weeks and a great number of patients are now under treatment, but she is aware that many deserving people have been unable to take treatment on account of the expense being beyond their reach.

Dr. Melville desires that everyone suffering from Catarrh, Deafness, Stomach, Nervous or other Curable Chronic Disease shall receive health at her hands; therefore she has determined to make a special price to all who apply during the month of June, as follows:

$10 PER MONTH

For medical treatment, medicines included, until cured, and to those who require a three month's course a rate of $30 will be made for that period, thereby securing

One month's treatment and medicine FREE.

This offer is good for old and new patients alike who apply during the month of June.

Now is the time to apply. 105 S. Main street.

NERVOUS DISEASES CURED.

Mrs. Bevell, a well-known and highly respected lady living on Washington street says:

It gives me great pleasure to say a word for Dr. Melville. I had been a sufferer for years from difficulties which only a woman can understand. A growth had developed for which a serious operation might have become necessary. Ordinary treatment being unavailing, I called on Dr. Melville. I found her pleasant, gentle, considerate, conscientious, and very much in earnest. She located my trouble, and I began treatment at once.

I gained very rapidly, and in one month was discharged, cured. I now feel perfectly well and stronger than in years. Any lady who desires to see me personally may call at my residence. Mrs. R. C. BEVELL.

DR. ANNA MELVILLE.

105 S. Main Street.

Dr. Anna Melville's schedule for the self-diagnosis of disease to all who apply personally, or by letter enclosing stamp for postage. It has brought light to many sufferers from chronic diseases.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

- 1468—James III of Scotland killed near Bannockburn, in Stirlingshire.
- 1802—Harriet Martineau, author and noted agnostic, born in Norwich, England; died 1876.
- 1806—John Augustus Roebling, designer and first chief engineer of the Brooklyn bridge, born at Mulhausen, Prussia, died 1869.
- 1864—Entry of Maximilian and Carlotta into the City of Mexico. Apparently the best elements of Mexican society welcomed the new emperor. His journey to the capital was an ovation, and he supposed that he was to be a Moses to the people. But the peace was disturbed by warring factions which did not unite to support Maximilian or cease their plotting. The mask soon fell, and the unfortunate prince and his consort discovered when it was too late that they had blindly walked into a trap.
- 1878—William Cullen Bryant, the poet, died in New York city; born at Cummington, Mass., 1794.
- 1880—George Opydyke, war mayor of New York, died in that city; born in New Jersey 1805.
- 1894—Commander John Rodgers, U. S. N., retired, died at Oakland, Pa.; born 1823.
- 1906—Theophilus Adam Wylie, emeritus professor of ancient languages in the University of Indiana, died at Bloomington.

SIGNS OF BETTER TIMES.

The advance in stocks is one of the many favorable business indications which are noticed at the present date. Of course, stocks go up and down in bad as well as good times. Sometimes the fluctuations have nothing at all to do with the regular trade conditions. But when there is a general advance in stocks for ten or twelve days, with only trifling interruptions, as is the case now, the sign is encouraging. It means that investors think the financial improvement which is under way will be continuous.

Along the same line R. J. Dun & Co.'s report today says: "The gain in business continues, not without fluctuation, and at the best moderate, yet distinct. It is still in quantities rather than in prices, although in some branches an advance in prices appears, but on the whole, the number of hands employed the volume of new orders and the amount of work done are slowly increasing."

MAKING RAPID PROGRESS.

The country has no reason to be impatient over delays in tariff legislation. Great progress has been made with the tariff bill thus far. Senator Vest shortly after the measure was brought up said that more ground had been covered by the senate in three days on the Dingley bill than in three weeks on the Wilson bill. There has been no "let up" in the speed since. There is a strong probability that the bill will pass the senate before the fourth of July. The democrats have promised not to resort to any obstructive tactics against the bill and they have kept their word along to this time.

A great many people seem to be much surprised because every tariff schedule recommended to the senate by the republican steering committee has been adopted with votes to spare, but there is nothing surprising about it. Every republican supports protection, and there are democrats and populist senators who have not dared to vote against schedules providing protection for products of their states.

How many Schlatters are there, any way? One of him was reported as being driven out of several towns because his humbug "divine healing" was objectionable, and now it is published that one of him has starved to death in the mountains of Mexico. Perhaps the game is being worked by several.

The fact that many of the Latin inscriptions on buildings and monuments in the United States have been declared by scholars to be bad Latin ought to be a good argument for the use of plain English for such inscriptions.

Diamond fields have been discovered in Mexico and Vermont is having a little gold mining boom but that is no reason why anybody should give up his ordinary methods of making a living.

Senators Jones of Arkansas, and Vest of Missouri, have not been successful as democratic whippers in during the tariff debate in the senate.

Convention ointment is the only effective remedy for a well developed case of presidential itch.

A two line advertisement in last night's Gazette reading "Situation wanted by competent girl," brought twelve answers before ten o'clock this morning. It appeared to give proof of two things—that work can be had by those who are qualified, and that Gazette want ads give big returns.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

CHICAGO, June 12.—[Special to Byrd and Law Commission Company]—I assume that with interior supplies exhausted with shortage in India, Argentina and France with practically no competition the world's market except from Russia, 500 million crop would be a normal crop and should not cause any unusually low prices.

I assume that general business must improve, if for no other reason because prosperity is down below zero and any change must be for the better.

Under these circumstances 65 cents is a low price. A generation of old bulls went broke because they could not understand that dollar wheat was no longer cheap and that eighty cents was high. A generation of bears may now suffer because wheat has been down to fifty cents during a period of panic and accumulations. It may not go there again. It is not likely to do so and we have full average crops throughout the world again, and that will not occur this year any way. The rally in wheat was due in a measure to grasshopper stories in the northwest, but so far as any influence on wheat is concerned we doubt its importance as yet. The locust is a very different animal, but they will not fly for three weeks yet. The possible supply looks like over a million decrease and the world's shipments are almost exclusively made up from Russia. This country will not be able to export much more on the crop. Cholera scare has given us abnormal receipts for the past three weeks, but they will soon be smaller, and prices of products are bound to be higher. Corn is having good weather now. The corn crop depends on July, and speculation now is a guess on the weather, that's all.

In regard to government I have only this addition to make, that if we allow that the acreage of spring wheat this year is 3-7 and winter wheat 4-7, the general average is raised 82.7 instead of 82 on the old basis of 4 spring and 3 winter average. ROBERT LINDBLOM.

SHEKEY HOME FROM THE WEST

Janesville Engineer Says Times Are Better Here Than on the Coast

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Shekey returned from a three months' trip through the west this morning. When they left Janesville in March they went directly to San Francisco. Since then they have visited Los Angeles, traveled up the coast by boat and spent considerable time in Oregon and Washington. They were entertained in Oregon by Mr. Shekey's cousin, Judge Fullerton of the Oregon circuit court, and in Tacoma were guests of George Winthrop who formerly owned a farm near Lake Koshkonong. While on the coast Mr. Shekey killed three sea lions and caught more kinds of fish than he had ever heard about. A California paper says of one of his achievements:

"The long lost and much-talked-of sea serpent was caught Tuesday by A. H. Shekey, who is visiting W. C. Davidson. The old inhabitant of the deep was snake like in shape about six feet long and had a head and teeth like a dog."

"This state is a gold mine compared to the states further west," said Mr. Shekey to a Gazette reporter today. "We don't know what hard times are. The coast country is literally overrun with men who can't get a days work."

TWO MEN RUN A FOOT RACE.

One Said the Other Had Talked About His Affairs.

There was a lively foot race across Milwaukee street bridge this morning, two Eastsiders being the contestants. One of them had charged that the other had too much to say about his personal affairs. When the aggrieved party saw the talkative one this morning, he took after him. The talkative man was the swifter runner and made his escape. During the race the talkative man lost his hat, and the aggrieved party had to content himself with kicking the head covering into a shapeless mass.

Calamus, Iowa, Jan. 25, 1895.

This is to certify that I was troubled with rheumatism for about eight years. At the time I heard of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure I was obliged to go with crutches, my feet were so swollen and painful that I could not sleep. Within twenty-four hours after I commenced Munyon's Remedy, I threw away my crutches, and am now as free from it as I ever was in my life. The same remedy cured two others here. JAS. B. C. W. BOYNTON DEAD AT HIS FARM HOME

COUNTY'S PIONEER BLACKSMITH NO MORE.

When He Located in the Town of Bradford, Indians Roamed the Plains and Hardship Was the Lot of the Settlers—Sudden Death of Mrs. Whitney at Monroe.

Charles W. Boynton, the pioneer blacksmith of Bradford township, and one of the well-to-do farmers, died at 7 o'clock this morning, at his home a mile south of Emerald Grove, aged eighty-four years. The cause of death was inflammation of the bowels.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 Monday afternoon, from the home, and at 2 o'clock from the Emerald Grove church. The interment will be in the Emerald Grove cemetery.

Mr. Boynton was born in Burlington, Vt., April 2, 1813. He was a mere lad when the death of his parents left him to earn his own living. He was apprenticed to a blacksmith, and after completing his term of service, embarked in the business for himself, remaining there for three years. In 1836 he removed to Fort Ann, Washington county, remaining nine years, before the desire to better his condition led him to come west. A canal boat carried him to Buffalo, and from there he came to Kenosha by steamer. The journey to Rock county from the latter place was made by team.

Rock county was then very sparsely settled. Bands of Indians roamed over the prairies, and wild game abounded. Mr. Boynton shared the cares and hardships of the other pioneers, having taken up a government claim on section 18, Town of Bradford.

Opened Blacksmith Shop

Until he could find a cabin he resided in the cellar over which the residence was built. At that time there was no blacksmith shop in Bradford, so Mr. Boynton built one. For several years he worked at his trade, and then turned his attention to farming, which occupation he had followed ever since.

On Feb. 13, 1837, at Fort Ann, Mr. Boynton was united in marriage with Miss Eliza Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens. The widow, with two children—a son and a daughter—survive him. One son, Judson, died when two years old. The surviving children are Mrs. M. C. Sturdevant of Morris, Ill., and Thomas J. Boynton, a prosperous farmer residing in the town of Bradford.

Mr. and Mrs. Boynton celebrated their golden wedding on February 13, 1888.

In early life Mr. Boynton was a Whig. Later he affiliated with the Free Soil party, and on the reorganization of the republican party, adopted that political faith. Since that time he had been a firm believer in the republican principles.

He was a man of more than ordinary ability, honest and upright in his dealings, and a consistent member of the Congregational church. His death will be generally mourned throughout the county.

Mrs. Harriet W. Whitney.

The Monroe Evening Times gives this account of the death of Mrs. Harriet W. Whitney: "The relatives and many friends of Mrs. Harriet W. Whitney, were wholly unprepared for the announcement of her death, which occurred at 10 o'clock Thursday evening, and it was a painful shock to them. Mrs. Whitney was receiving a visit from her daughter, Mrs. A. P. Burnham, of Janesville, and she was in the best of spirits. In the evening they took a short walk together. Returning home Mrs. Whitney retired early, and insisted that her daughter and Miss Nellie Treat, who had called at the house, attend the commencement exercises.

"The servant girl was in the house with Mrs. Whitney, and when she heard an unusual sound that came from Mrs. Whitney's room she hastened to her assistance and found her spitting blood. Seeing the condition she was in, she ran to the home of W. F. Trukenbrod to have him call a physician. Mrs. Trukenbrod returned with her, but it was too late for assistance, for she had taken life's last gasp.

"Her death was caused by hemorrhage of the stomach. Since the death of Mr. Whitney last October, she has suffered untold grief and to her relatives and intimate friends it was known that she was fast sailing down life's stream, although no immediate danger was apprehended. By her relatives she received every attention and favor they could bestow upon her, and these were greatly appreciated, even in her lonely hours she never complained.

"Mrs. Harriet Whitney was the senior of one of Monroe's most prominent and respected families. She was the oldest daughter of Nathaniel Treat and was born at Frankfort, Me., on Feb. 6, 1828. She was married to H. W. Whitney on April 29, 1851. She came to Monroe with Mr. Whitney and other members of the family in the sixties. Mrs. Whitney herself had little concern for what was going on in the outer world and her own home was her sole enjoyment. She had many warm personal friends with whom she always delighted to visit. Many times she had proven herself to be a friend to the poor and needy and whatever contributions she made to them she was always careful to have it kept a secret, although it was known that she was in the habit of making very liberal donations. Her brothers, sisters, nieces and nephews were dearly devoted to her and her sudden demise is a painful shock to them. Her only daughter, Mrs. A. P. Burnham, of Janesville, who came here yesterday to enjoy a visit with her mother, is prostrated with grief. The deceased was a sister of E. P. Treat, J. B. Treat, N. B. Treat, Mrs. S. A. Chandler of this city and Mrs. W. S. Bloom, of Chicago.

THE HOBOES HELD TO THE GRAND JURY

MURDEROUS TRAMPS IN JAIL AT ROCKFORD.

They Carried a Small Arsenal and One Had on a Prison Suit—Refuse to Give Their Names—Tulley Has the Bullet Taken From His Arm.

Five of the desperate gang of tramps who took part in the shooting affray near Beloit are now behind the bars in the Winnebago county jail at Rockford.

Three of them were taken from Conductor Phelps' freight train by Rockford officers, and the other two were brought down by Deputy Sheriff Tulley and Marshal Appleby of Beloit.

In the hog car from which the tramps were taken that night the trainmen found three revolvers on reaching Chicago, which they dropped when placed under arrest. All of the tough gang had guns at the state line, and used them freely.

Deputy Tulley carries his right arm in a sling, his wrist having been fractured by a bullet. The bullet struck the bone, flattened and came out. He now has the piece of lead. Tulley is a nervy man and will go against a cannon if he has only a pen-knife in his pocket.

One Has Prison Suit.

One of the prisoners brought down wears a prison suit, indicating that he has only been out a short time. The others all seem to understand the lock step. The gang will be given a preliminary examination, and be bound over. They are a desperate looking set. Fully thirty shots were exchanged in the fight.

The men refuse to give their names, but they are supposed to be members of "Mysterious Jim's" gang. Deputy Sheriff Tulley says he shot one man in the head and one in the back, but both are still at large.

The men were bound over to the grand jury today. A search of their clothing disclosed a small arsenal in the way of knives and razors, but no guns were found. These were hidden in the straw in the cattle car. In the pockets of the men were five razors, thirteen knives and a bag containing a score of long cartridges. When the trainmen reached Chicago they made a thorough search of the cattle car and found the revolvers and sent them to Rockford by the next train.

Hold Up Started Fight.

Beloit, June 12.—[Special]—Beloit people are still discussing Thursday night's bloody fight. Shortly after 6 o'clock, a Mr. Cooper, a stock buyer, of Rockton, was approaching the city from the south and was compelled to pass through the district in the vicinity of the "Willows," the rendezvous of all tramps and tough characters that visit this city on their rounds. As he neared the Northwestern railway crossing several tramps stepped in front of the horse and demanded that he "shell out" all the money he had on his person; and he, deeming discretion the better part of valor, hastily gave the highwaymen the small amount of cash he had, and after giving him some parting thumps for not carrying more money the thugs allowed him to pass on. He notified Officer Ed Tully of the proceedings, who forthwith proceeded to do his duty in attempting to arrest the offender.

Mrs. Appleby Located Man.

The running fight followed, citizens joining the police in the chase. The outlaws were fleet of foot, and gained considerable distance on their pursuers. They turned up Third street, while another dodged into the alley. The latter proceeded to hide near an outhouse and had covered himself over with cord wood in such a manner as to escape the eyes of those who were hunting for him. Just at this time Mrs. Appleby, wife of Marshal Appleby, who had watched the man hiding himself, came to the assistance of the police and pointed out the man in hiding. He submitted without further struggle, and after being relieved of his revolver and a pocketful of cartridges was placed behind the bars, but not before he had stated that he could kill every officer in Beloit if they would return his revolver and face him in the street.

Good Work By Tully.

Deputy Ed Tully had been doing great work in breaking up the nefarious gang that infests the state line along Rock river. He has made more captures almost than all his predecessors in office, but the place is still a favorite resort for small criminals. The Rockford Star suggests there should be some united effort on the part of Rock and Winnebago counties to do away with the lawless bands that resort to the island in the river and other secluded spots in the vicinity.

RUMRILL WAREHOUSE CLOSES

John Landh is Handsomely Remembered By the Employees.

At 10 o'clock today the sorters finished their labors at the T. H. Rumrill warehouse, after a long term of six months and a half, during which time all were busy—not stopping even for but part of the holidays. When John Landh went to his dinner yesterday he found an elegant book case and writing desk which had been sent as a token of esteem by the employees. At 4 o'clock the employees were served with refreshments furnished by Mr. Landh, and the usually orderly warehouse was the scene of much mirth. It is needless to state that the best of feeling prevails and many wished the assorting season might continue even longer.

RED AND YELLOW MEET IN BATTLE

COLLEGE NINES COMPETE AT ATHLETIC PARK.

Beloit and State University Teams Answer the Call "Play Ball" at 3:30 O'clock This Afternoon—Contest on Neutral Ground With Neutral Umpire.

The followers of the cardinal and the yellow are fighting it out at Athletic park this afternoon.

The base ball team of the University of Wisconsin stands for the red, and the Beloit college nine for the yellow. The Beloit team arrived in Janesville at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, the players being accompanied by a big crowd of friends.

The Madison team arrived at 3 o'clock, and quite a delegation of people came with the side.

The Y. M. C. A. band met the team at the depot and they marched down Milwaukee and Main streets, as far as the Lewis knitting factory, where carryalls were in waiting to take them to the grounds. The game was called at 3:30 o'clock. Guy Dart, of Chicago, was the umpire, and the teams lined up as follows:

Madison	Position	Beloit
Perry	Catcher	McMasters
Hendel	Pitcher	Hollister
Ashton	E. Brown
Siefert	Kingsley
Gregg	Jeffers
Clark	R. Brown
Blakely	Strothers
Brownell	Dudley
Brewer	Meyer

Four Janesville men took part in the game—Brewer, Blakeley and Brownell of the University team, and Jeffers of the Beloit team.

Both teams were confident of victory. The Beloit men thought that this time they could win a game of base ball from her old time rivals. This time the game was on neutral ground and with a neutral umpire to officiate. The attendance from Beloit was large. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road ran a special, leaving at 12:50 and returning at 6:30. A large number came up in carriages, and still more on bicycles, so the Line City men had many takers in the crowd. Hard practice work has been done the past week by the Beloit men. The change of Strothers with Ed. Brown from short to centerfield was so an improvement, they insisted, and with Dr. Hollister in the pitcher's box they expected to make a better showing than on previous occasions.

The Madison men, too, insisted that their team could not be strengthened.

FASHIONABLE PARASOLS.

They Should Match the Costume—Handles of Novel Design.

Maize and yellow tones are as fashionable this summer as they were last and are much seen in organdies and dimities. Speaking of shirt waists, the newest have tight sleeves, bouffant at the top only, with turned back cuffs, not starched. Umbrellas, or rather parasols, ought always to be in harmony with the costume.

TAFFETA COSTUME.

even when they do not match it. Women who can afford to have a parasol to accompany every out of door gown may, of course, indulge in all sorts of fancies, but when only one or two parasols can be purchased it is necessary to make a judicious selection and to obtain what will go well with the majority of the gowns in one's wardrobe. White and black are naturally the most generally useful because they will harmonize with everything, but most women allow some color, or perhaps two colors, to predominate in their clothing. With some it is red and pink, with others blue and purple, with still others yellow or green. In this case the parasol may be selected of the dominating color, for it will then be apt to be most serviceable. Many parasols of gauze are seen this year, some plain, others gathered or plaited over silk.

The picture given today illustrates a costume of pink glace taffeta, having a pink and green design sprinkled over it. The plainly cut skirt is trimmed around the top with three rows of narrow moss green velvet, which simulate an extremely short tablier. The double bolero is bordered with three bands of moss green velvet and also with plaited ruffles of pink mousseline de soie. Three plaited ruffles of mousseline de soie form epaulets to the tight sleeves of figured taffeta. The chemise and corset are of pink mousseline de soie, the sleeve frills of white lace. The belt is of moss green velvet. With this gown is worn a hat of pink straw, trimmed with pink hollyhocks, green leaves and pink gauze.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SERVANTS' COSTUMES.

Prejudice Against the Becoming Cap, Best Material For Gowns.

There is a widespread prejudice in America against servants' caps. Why it would be difficult to tell, for the large majority of servants are not Americans, who might reasonably be expected to be of an over-educated and upish disposition, but are of the peasant class of the old countries—Ireland, England, Germany, Holland or

TRAVELING GOWN.

Sweden—or else are colored persons, who are equally well accustomed to occupying a position of servitude. If a woman is a servant, no matter what her previous social position, there is no reason why she should rebel against an inhuman trifle like a cap, which does not in the least affect her actual circumstances. She is no more a servant when she wears a cap than when she is without one, and why should she not be as willing to accept that badge of servitude as the servitude itself? A white cap, especially such a trifle as now forms a servant's cap, is as personally becoming as can be desired, and there seems to be no reason why all servants should not wear them, all servants, that is, of the feminine persuasion. As for gowns, maids should always wear wash material about their duties, and gingham or prints of a light color, to be frequently changed. Lilac and pink are the most acceptable and appropriate shades, and both wash well. In winter time warm underclothing may be worn to preclude all danger of chill, but the visible costume should remain the same.

Today's sketch shows a traveling gown of finely checked brown and white goods. The skirt has a sort of triple yoke, from which it depends in large plaits. The bodice is fitted at the back, but is slightly full in front, where it is double breasted, fastening over with three large steel buttons. The edge is bordered with a band of velvet of a golden brown tint. The sleeves are of very moderate size, with full epaulets bordered with velvet, and the collar, cuffs and belt are of velvet. Frills of old point finish the neck and wrists. The hat, of golden brown straw, is trimmed with foliage and pink chrysanthemums.

Not Exactly an Objection.

He had some doubts as to his standing with the old man.

"Does your father object to my calling?" he asked.

"Well, not exactly," she answered.

He had still further doubts about the subject, but he resolved to know the worst.

He no longer had any doubts, but he didn't feel particularly good about it just the same.—Chicago Post.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who are Weak And Worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. They it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal.

There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity; a sense of loneliness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever. Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 494, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to offset the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

Lost Appetite.

COULD NOT EAT THE MOST TEMPTING DISHES.

Many Days Without any Food at All—Can Eat Four Square Meals a Day Now—The Cause of the Change.

From the Leader, Cleveland, Ohio.

For the restoration of an appetite which has been impaired or lost through sickness, no remedy can compare in effectiveness with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. This statement is substantiated by the experience and declarations of men and women with whom these pills have become a household medicine. Among the many who can offer testimony to this particular property of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is George Marshall, Jr., who lives at No. 19 Norwich Street, Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Marshall is a news agent on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, and his territory extends from Cleveland to Toledo. Like thousands of others who owe their health and vigor to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, Mr. Marshall never hesitates to sing their praises. In his case it was necessary to use only a few boxes of the pills to restore him to the full possession of bodily health. His digestive organs had become almost useless through a long and serious illness, but in a surprisingly brief period, through the agency of this wonderful medicine, they were capable of again performing their functions in a regular and perfectly satisfactory manner. In narrating his experience with them Mr. Marshall said:

"Last spring I was taken sick with inflammatory rheumatism, and my entire system was affected. To relieve the suffering it was necessary to paint me with iodine. After three months treatment I became convalescent, but the attack had sapped my strength and left me extremely weak and feeble. I could scarcely lift an arm or a leg. This weakness permeated my entire system, and applied as well to my stomach and digestive apparatus as to my limbs. I soon discovered that I had lost my appetite almost as completely as though I never had one. I had no desire whatever to partake of any nourishment, and the natural result was that my convalescence was extremely slow, and my parents feared that I was going to suffer a relapse or fall prey to another ailment on account of my debilitated condition.

"Many a day I would not take any nourishment, and whenever I did the quantity was too insignificant to materially hasten my improvement. Tempting dishes were prepared for me, but I could not touch them. I began to become more or less alarmed as did my parents, and one day my mother suggested the purchase of some of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for me. They had been recommended to her by a neighbor who regarded them as nothing short of miraculous, and I began to become more or less persuaded to try them. There is not much more to tell now, for I don't look like a man who cannot eat three or four square meals a day, do I?"

"Three boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills fixed me up sound as a dollar, and they will do the same for anyone else, I am sure. I began to feel myself improving. My strength began to return and so did my appetite, and I was on the road again in a short time. That is my experience, and I am glad to give it for the benefit of others who may have lost their appetites through sickness.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or directly by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

CHAPTER XI.

THE LETTERS CHANGE HANDS AGAIN.

What seemed at the moment an incomprehensible puzzle had, as we afterward learned, a very simple explanation. One of the G. S. directors, Mr. Baldwin, who had come in on Mr. Camp's car, was the owner of a great cattle ranch near Rock Butte. When the train had been held at that station for a few minutes, Camp went to the conductor, demanded the cause for the delay and was shown my telegram. Seeing through the device, the party had at once gone to this ranch, where the owner, Baldwin, mounted them, and it was their dust cloud we had seen as they rode up to Ash Forks. To make matters more serious, Baldwin had rounded up his cowboys and brought them along with him in order to make any resistance impossible.

I made no objection to the sheriff serving the paper, though it nearly broke my heart to see Madge's face. To cheer her I said suggestively: "They've got me, but they haven't got the letters, Miss Cullen. And, remember, it's always darkest before the dawn, and the stars in their courses are against Caesar."

With the sheriff and Mr. Camp I then walked over to the saloon, where Judge Wilson was waiting to dispose of my case. Mr. Cullen and Albert tried to come, too, but all outsiders were excluded by order of the "court." I was told to show cause why I should not forthwith produce the letters, and answered that I asked an adjournment of the case so that I might be heard by counsel. It was denied, as was to have been expected. Indeed, why they took the trouble to go through the forms was beyond me. I told Wilson I should not produce the letters, and he asked if I knew what that meant. I couldn't help laughing and retorting:

"It very appropriately means 'contempt of the court,' your honor."

"I'll give you a stiff term, young man," he said.

"It will take just one day to have habeas corpus proceedings in a United States court and one more to get the papers here," I rejoined pleasantly.

Seeing that I understood the moves too well to be bluffed, the judge, Mr. Camp and the lawyer held a whispered consultation. My surprise can be imagined when, at its conclusion, Mr. Camp said:

"Your honor, I charge Richard Gordon with being concerned in the holding up of the Missouri Western overland, No. 3, on the night of Oct. 14 and ask that he be taken into custody on that charge."

I couldn't make out this new move and puzzled over it, while Judge Wilson ordered my commitment. But the next step revealed the object, for the lawyer then asked for a search warrant to look for stolen property. The judge was equally obliging and began to fill one out on the instant.

This made me feel pretty serious, for the letters were in my breast pocket, and I swore at my own stupidity in not having put them in the station safe when I had first arrived at Ash Forks. There weren't many moments in which to think while the judge scribbled away at the warrant, but in what time there was I did a lot of head work, without, however, finding more than one way out of the snarl, and when I saw the judge finish off his signature with a flourish I played a pretty desperate card.

"You're just too late, gentlemen," I said, pointing out the side window of the saloon. "There comes the cavalry."

The three conspirators jumped to their feet and bolted for the window. Even the sheriff turned to look. As he did so I gave him a shove toward the three, which sent them all sprawling on the floor in a pretty badly mixed up condition. I made a dash for the door, and as I went through it I grabbed the key and locked them in. As I turned to do so I saw the lot struggling up from the floor, and knowing that it wouldn't take them many seconds to find their way out through the window, I didn't waste much time in watching them.

Camp, Baldwin and the judge had left their horses just outside the saloon, and there they were still patiently standing, with their bridles thrown over their heads, as only western horses will stand. It didn't take me long to have those bridles back in place, and as I tossed each over the peak of the Mexican saddle I gave two of the ponies slaps which started them off at a lope across the railroad tracks. I swung myself into the saddle of the third and flicked him with the loose ends of the bridle in a way which made him understand that I meant business.

Baldwin's cowboys had most of them scattered to the various saloons of the place, but two of them were standing in the doorway of a store. I acted so quickly, however, that they didn't seem to take in what I was about till I was well mounted. Then I heard a yell, and, fearing that they might shoot—for the cowboy does love to use his gun—I turned sharp at the saloon corner and rode up the side street, just in time to see Camp climbing through the window, with Baldwin's head in view behind him.

Before I had ridden 100 feet I realized that I had a done up horse under me, and, considering that he had covered over 40 miles that afternoon in pretty quick time, it was not surprising that there wasn't very much go left in him. I knew that Baldwin's cowboys could get new mounts in plenty without wasting many minutes and that then they would overhaul me in very short order. Clearly there was no use in my attempting to escape by running. And, as I wasn't armed, my only hope was to beat them by some finesse.

Ash Forks, like all western railroad towns, is one long line of buildings running parallel with the railway tracks. Two hundred feet, therefore, brought me to the edge of the town, and I wheeled my pony and rode down behind the rear of the buildings. In turning I looked back and saw half a dozen mounted men already in pursuit, but I lost sight of them the next moment. As soon as I reached a street leading back to the railroad I turned again and rode toward it, my one thought being to get back, if possible, to the station and put the letters into the railroad agent's safe.

When I reached the main street, I saw that my hope was futile, for another batch of cowboys were coming in full gallop toward me, very thoroughly heading me off in that direction. To escape them I headed up the street away from the station, with the pack in close pursuit. They yelled at me to hold up, and I expected every moment to hear the crack of revolvers, for the poorest shot among them would have found no difficulty in dropping my horse at that distance if they had wanted to stop me.

It isn't a very nice sensation to keep your ears pricked up in expectation of hearing the shooting begin and to know that any moment may be your last. I don't suppose I was on the ragged edge more than 30 seconds, but they were enough to prove to me that to keep one's back turned to an enemy as one runs away takes a deal more pluck than to stand up and face his gun. Fortunately for me, my pursuers felt so sure of my capture that not one of them drew a bead on me.

The moment I saw that there was no escape I put my hand in my breast pocket and took out the letters, intending to tear them into 100 pieces. But as I did so I realized that to destroy United States mail not merely entailed criminal liability, but was off color morally. I faltered, balancing the outwitting of Camp against state prison, the doing my best for Madge against the wrong of it. I think I'm as honest a fellow as the average, but I have to confess that I couldn't decide to do right till I thought that Madge wouldn't want me to be dishonest, even for her.

I turned across the railroad track.

I turned across the railroad track and put in behind some freight cars that were standing on a siding. This put me out of view of my pursuers for a moment, and in that instant I stood up in my stirrups, lifted the broad leather flap of the saddle and tucked the letters underneath it, as far in as I could force them. It was a desperate place in which to hide them, but the game was a desperate one at best, and the very boldness of the idea might be its best chance of success.

I was now heading for the station over the ties and was surprised to see Fred Cullen with Lord Ralles on the tracks up by the special, for my mind had been so busy in the last hour that I had forgotten that Fred was due. The moment I saw him I rode toward him, pressing my pony for all he was worth. My hope was that I might get time to give Fred the tip as to where the letters were, but before I was within speaking distance Baldwin came running out from behind the station, and, seeing me, turned, called back and gesticulated, evidently to summon some cowboys to head me off. Afraid to shout anything which should convey the slightest clew as to the whereabouts of the letters, as the next best thing I pulled a couple of old section reports from my pocket, intending to ride up and run into my car, for I knew that the papers in my hand would be taken to be the wanted letters and that if I could only get inside the car even for a moment the suspicion would be that I had been able to hide them. Unfortunately the plan was no sooner thought of than I heard the whistle of a lariat, and before I could guard myself the noose settled over my head. I threw the papers toward Fred and Lord Ralles, shouting, "Hide them!" Fred was quick as a flash, and, grabbing them off the ground, sprang up the steps of my car and ran inside, just escaping a bullet from my pursuers. I tried to pull up my pony, for I did not want to be jerked off, but I was too late, and the next moment I was lying on the ground in a pretty well shaken and jarred condition, surrounded by a lot of men.

MINNEAPOLIS LAWYER

Like Many Another Professional Man, He Had Kidney Disease.

Like Many Another Minneapolis Man, He Took Dodd's Kidney Pills and Was Cured—They Will Cure All Kidney Ills.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 12.—Food ceases to be food when it is not needed by the system; then it becomes poison. After enough nutriment has been taken to satisfy the demands of nature, every mouthful over is a burden upon the kidneys. Excessive eating, as well as excessive drinking causes kidney disease. The only way to keep the kidneys absolutely healthy is to eat just what the body demands, no more, no less.

Food may become poison also for another reason. Men who work at mental occupations need brain food, not muscle food or flesh food. If they eat muscle-making or flesh building foods they damage the kidneys, because their systems cannot use the kind of nutriment supplied, it becomes waste; must be expelled. The kidneys are overworked.

Men who work at sedentary employments, professional men, are prone to kidney disease, and very serious diseases, too. Diabetes and Bright's Disease find most of their victims in this class. The only medicine known to modern science that will positively cure the aggravated and serious forms of Kidney Disease (as well as the lesser ills) is Dodd's Kidney Pills. In every case of Kidney Disease where these Pills have been tried, a cure has been recorded.

Take the case of Attorney Bunting of this city:

Notable Values in Ready-Made Skirts, Silk and Velvet Capes and Wash Goods.

The backward season has thrown thousands of dollars' worth of such merchandise on the market at prices positively less than the cost of manufacture, and the result of Mr. Reid's visit to the market the past week will be found in some of the best offerings of the whole season. Several cases of Wash Goods are among the arrivals and there are many new things among them never seen before.

"Nanola Dimity." Light and dark grounds, including black and white. Sixty pieces of one of the best fabrics produced; width 26 inches; patterns all new. Your guess at the price would say a shilling, but you would have to guess again, for it's 5c.

Fine Organais (dimity) and Nainsooks The very newest designs and colorings in a large range of styles; mid-season novelties that are different from the ordinary run. Values as never before—per yard, 10c. Width, 30 inches.

CAPES are necessary for evening wear all summer. To own one of ours is easy; the new line is at half price and less. One of velvet is silk lined, has lace ruche and is embroidered in colors. Twenty of them are offered at $2 87; another of velvet with ribbon ruche, novelty silk lining, is $3.50. One with Empire plait in the back, wide collar of velvet, brocade silk lining, ribbon ruche—$4.00, others up to $7.50. All the above Capes are in black only. Colored Capes are cheaper yet, next to nothing prices.

Silk and Sicilian Skirts. Large patterns are the favorites and this new line displays some handsome designs. They are tailor-made, cut full width, well lined and are positive bargains at the prices, —$2½, $3, $4, $4½, $5, up to $7½ for the silk brocades of ten and twelve dollar values.
